FACULTIES impressively robed in gowns, mortarboards, and hoods have marched in academic procession through 568 years at Heidelberg Universities. During the passing years the traditional pince-nez was discarded for the horn-rimmed glasses, the monk's collar for the loud bow tie, the somber robe for the plaid and tweed sport jacket, and the all-male faculty for one supplemented by women. Whatever future years may bring in faculty change, the standard duties and aims of our faculty will persist. Briefcases, attendance slips, record books, tests to compose and grade, lectures to prepare and give, and the inevitable sleepy eyes in eight o'clock classes will remain constant in faculty lives. Devoted to the task of educating Heidelbergers, the men and women of our faculty will continue to impart in the future as in the past their knowledge and gems of Heidelberg wisdom.

Traditional and colorful academic procession prepares for first convocation of the semester.

PRESIDENT WM. TERRY WICKHAM

HEIDELBERG'S PRESIDENT

Dr. Wickham, Heidelberg's ninth president, is a native of Sycamore, Ohio. Graduating from Heidelberg in 1920, he later received his A.M. at Ohio State University and his Pd.D. at Catawba College, North Carolina. He did additional graduate work at Columbia, Ohio State and Western Reserve Universities. Mr. Wickham is an active member of many professional groups including the American Association of School Administrators, the International Council of Religious Education, and chairman of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges. His philosophy centered on thoughtful, detailed planning, followed by action is reflected in his many accomplishments. With his guidance Heidelberg has faith in future progress of the college.

The first convocation of each semester is opened by President Wickham who regardless of many duties finds some time to relax at home with Mrs. Wickham.

DEAN FREDERICK LEMKE

Dean of the college, F. D. Lemke, originally from Watertown, Wisconsin, attended Heidelberg and the University of Wisconsin to earn his A.B. and A.M. degrees. At the University of Illinois, Mr. Lemke taught composition and literature while working on his doctor's degree. He came to Heidelberg as head of the English department until 1940 when he became dean of the college. The Heidelberg family appreciates his ever-willing assistance in meeting problems.

DEAN GRACE LESLIE

Well-known dean of women, Miss Grace Leslie, Convoy, Ohio, earned her B.S.M. at Oberlin College and taught public school music in her hometown. Later Miss Leslie received her M.S. degree at Ohio University where she was assistant dean of women. She then came to Heidelberg as dean of women. After a strenuous college year, Miss Leslie enjoys vacationing in Canada or the East during the summer months.

DEAN HENRY GENZ

Dean of men, Henry E. Genz, Atlanta, Georgia, received an A.B. degree at Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, and an A.M. at the University of Wisconsin where he was an assistant professor. In 1949, Mr. Genz assumed the head of the French department at Heidelberg, and in 1952 he became the dean of men. With three years experience in the service, Mr. Genz is able to understand problems college men are facing today.

SINCE 1385, when Heidelberg University in Germany was founded, students have been going to classes, listening to lectures, studying, taking exams, and learning. Bells have rung, flying pencils have recorded words of teachers, books have been studied, and midnight oil has been burned the night before exams. In early Heidelberg classes men sitting on stone floors listened to monks lecture on the classical subjects of philosophy, literature, history, mathematics, languages, and religion. Today men and women in modern classrooms listen to professors lecture not only on the classical topics but on specialized subjects such as economics, speech, and psychology as well. From the days of early German students in leggings, to the first Tiffinites in string ties and the modern man in levis, the student has held the same objective. The desire to learn, to gain knowledge has remained the foremost goal for the endless stream of Student Princes marching to classes through the ages.

HEIDELBERG students through the centuries have formed many varied organizations and enthusiastically participated in the activities of these organizations. Musically talented Heidelbergers trained in choral and orchestral groups have presented expertly, both singly and in combination, the secular and sacred works of composers. Other students more dramatically inclined have rehearsed and performed plays running the gamut from the Corpus Christi play and classical Greek tragedy to modern murder and comedy. Although the early Heidelberg did not rush to meet "Kil," "Aurora," and "Student Prince," deadlines, he did write essays and dissertations distributed among the students. Today's literary society can trace its ancestry back to the extracurricular academic discussion groups and secret societies of early Heidelberg. Heidelbergers of similar interests have joined in organizations throughout the years to learn and broaden their scopes of experience.

All students choose the Castle as their favorite gathering place for refreshments and a moment of relaxation.

Having been chosen as most representative of his society, James Baker, a graduating senior, served as president of the Aptonaltons.

The Indian and his traditions are synonymous with the Aptonalton society.

To the clashing of swords the Aps presented their 1952 annual open house, "The Sands of Time."

APTONALTON

The Aptonalton Literary Society closed its activities for the school year with its annual spring dinner-dance at Mohawk Country Club. Members returned to the Heidelberg campus during July for an "Ap Weekend" when they redecorated the hall in maroon and gray and had a watermelon-eating contest on the college lawn.

In the fall of '52 under the leadership of president James Baker, the Aps were occupied with working on the Homecoming float and sponsoring the Thanksgiving Dance with the theme "Harvest Moon Ball." For this event the Aluminum Gym was transformed into an autumn country scene in the moonlight. During the football season the society opened its hall for dancing after all home athletic events.

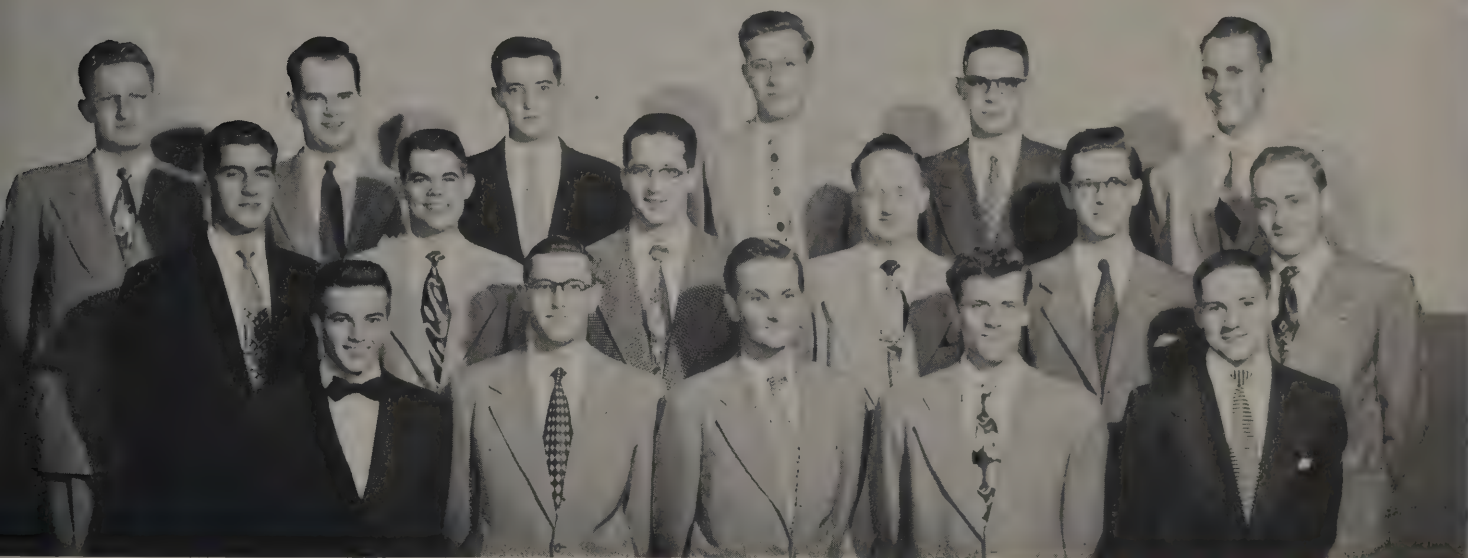

Soon after, rifle and shotgun enthusiasts had an opportunity to demonstrate their skill at the first society shooting contest. Participation in the Inter-society Sing, under the direction of Richard Field, closed the society's first semester activities.

The Aps opened the second semester with their annual open house, "The Chisholm Trail." This program depicted frontier life in the old west, and featured such acts as a barbershop quartette composed of the society's faculty alumni, a melodrama, singing around a campfire, and an Indian war-dance.

To set the mood for a perfect vacation the all-college Thanksgiving Dance was sponsored by the Aptonaltons.

Soon after came pledging activities, with the traditional hike, rain dance, and initiation banquet, at which the society was addressed by its former adviser, Professor Donald Kleckner of Bowling Green University. Following a closed dance in the form of a disk-jockey program, the Aptonaltons were still busy planning their spring activities, including another shooting contest, a barbecue, and the spring banquet.

Chosen by the Eugs as their presidents this year were Marge Lehmann and Joanne Opp. Marge, a sociology major, served as business manager of the Student Prince. Concert Choir and Senior Laureate highlighted Joanne's activities.

EUGLOSSIAN

The extra day in February of 1952 brought added enjoyment when the Eugs presented their annual open house, "Sentimental Journey." Excitement over this event was just fading into the past when spring pledging brought new travelers with the addition of 25 pledges and a new Eug honorary.

Another spring event was the annual Palm Sunday Breakfast at which the senior Eugs were presented the traditional gift of purple and white flowers. Traveling to the Hotel Harding in Marion, the Eugs dined and danced in "Black Magic," at the spring banquet. Returning home, the Eugs turned the "Wheel of Fortune" and honored their senior members with the sing out banquet held this year at the Bel-Aire.

In the fall Marge Lehmann assumed the president's duties and led the Eugs to Hedges Boyer park for the first event of the year, the "Highland Fling." Soon the weather was too chilly for playing and picnics, and the Eugs turned their attention to the business of raising money. Homecoming presented the opportunity of selling mums and also presented the Eugs with the honor of having their president, Marge Lehmann, elected as an attendant to the queen.

For their closed dance the Eugs entertained their guests amid Buddahs, ming trees, paper fans and parasols for an "Oriental Fantasy." Next on the calendar was the Inter-society Sing at which the Eugs raised their voices in song to a modern arrangement of "Grandma's Thanksgiving." Those attending the Christmas dance saw Martha Heusel, a junior Eug, crowned as Snow Queen.

Second semester with Joanne Opp as the new president, the Euglossians offered something new for their open house. Cinderella came to life in words and song when they presented the "Prince's Homecoming Ball" in Rickly Chapel and a dance afterwards in the well of the "U" building.

Once more spring rolled around and at the invitation of a "Skylark" the Eugs and their 25 pledges traveled to Findlay for their spring banquet. Singing out the seniors at the annual sing out banquet closed the pages in the Eug scrapbook for another year.

Hale Schroer, chosen to represent the Excelsior Society, will serve as president of the Student Council for the 1953-54 school year.

The red and green emblem of the Excelsiors signifies their motto "Let there be light."

EXCELSIOR

In the spring of 1952 the Excelsior Literary Society accepted twenty-two members into their organization. The annual spring banquet was held at the Commodore Perry Hotel in Toledo. Preceding the evening's activities of the banquet and dancing, the group spent the day at Ottawa Park. The night following the banquet the annual serenade was given for women in the various dormitories.

Fall activities began with an open house, a minstrel show, that was held Homecoming weekend. As usual, the society entered a float in the contest with the theme "Decapitate the Caps." Shortly after this, four neophytes were inducted into the society. The Exes entered the Inter-society Sing with a smaller but well-harmonized choir.

At the end of intramural football the Exes were acclaimed the champs for 1952. Turning their interest to the basketball crown, the Exes came out in first place in that sport.

After intramurals the society planned their closed dance, the Ex Topper. The Topper was held in the Aluminum Gym decorated as an underwater fantasy with the theme of "Blue Lagoon."

Row THREE: Don Gepfert, Eugene Amlin, John Ecos, Walter Sagan, Lew Matthias, Richard Tennant, Alan Meyers, Hale Schroer, Hartmuth Wolf.

Between semesters some of the members stayed on campus and painted the hall, the first step in hall improvement plans. Future plans include the buying of new furnishings. The spring open house was presented to the theme of the "Blue Note Cafe," held in the Aluminum Gym creating a new and different approach to a men's open house. The show included several variety acts—the Excelsior Choir, individual acts, Al Cleveland's Band, and an unusual trampoline act. With the ending of the open house, all the members look forward to another happy and busy year.

HEIDELBERG

Charles Higgins, past president of the S.C.A., was chosen by the Heidelberg Literary society as their most representative member.

The iron bell, with the Greek letters Nu Sigma Alpha, is a symbolic part of the tradition of the Heids.

"Nature's Holiday," annual Palm Sunday open house, and the banquet at Catawba Cliffs country club were the outstanding events for the Heids during the final months of the 1951-52 academic year. Larry Dunnewold received the society's outstanding member award for the year.

William Hild, Charles Higgins, Charles Presar, Kenneth Hed, and Alfred Williams served as Heid presidents during 1952-53. Co-advisers were again Prof. Arthur G. McQuate and Dr. George A. Stinchcomb.

Construction of a huge papier mache world with the motto "Heidelberg Alumni the World Over," was directed by Robert Kempshall. With this as their float entry the Heids gained the Homecoming float cup. At the Inter-society Sing the society was awarded the Men's Inter-society Scholarship plaque for the second successive year.

Also during the fall the Heids completed their drive for hall redecoration funds and had a tan and brown asphalt tile floor inlaid.

In February "Cupid's Holiday," a semi-formal dance in the Aluminum Gymnasium, successfully feted St. Valentine's Day. The Heids also sponsored several record dances in their hall throughout the year.

To the songs from the "Student Prince," the Heids displayed their Glee Club in the Inter-society Sing.

With pride the Heids show much care and attention in waxing the new floor in their society hall.

Seventeen pledges were initiated into the society in time for them to help with the annual Palm Sunday open house. The program, "Jubilee," was directed by Alfred Williams. Drama, variety, and choral work made the open house similar to oldtime showboat performances.

The year drew to a close with the annual Sweetheart Serenade directed by glee club director Robert Reiff after the May Day dance and the society banquet held again at Catawba Cliffs.

Serving as presidents of the Hesperians were Marilyn Wharton and Katherine Howald. Marilyn was active in band and education club, while Katherine served as president of Kappa Delta Pi.

HESPERIAN

Celebrating fifty years of campus leadership, the Hesperians set sail for future adventures by sponsoring a formal dance last spring in a yacht club setting in the Aluminum Gym and by honoring Arline Wulf who was May Day attendant. As graduation day neared, the underclass-women sang farewell to the seniors during the traditional sing-out banquet before embarking for summer vacation. Echoes of the songs soon floated over the sea as Donna Sweigard, second semester president, left for Brazil to teach nursing.

In the fall the Hesses left ship long enough to rake leaves on the campus and to take their tars for a "Last Leap" of square dancing at Isaak Walton Lodge. For the Inter-society Sing the women, directed by Mary Ann Westcott, praised the glories of their native land in a modern cantata, "Ballad for Americans." In December the Hesperians closed the log of their 50 year journey with a "Signature" dinner-dance in Findlay.

Returning to New Orleans after last year's fun-packed Mardi Gras, the Hesses invited all Heidelbergers on board for another masquerade carnival and dance. The guests, arrayed in imaginative, colorful costumes, laughed and danced amid confetti, balloons, bizarre scenery, clowns, and parade floats.

With the long-awaited coming of spring the Hesperians and their pledges traveled to Europe for "April in Paris." Leaving the Eiffel Tower and memories of make-believe visits to romantic lands, they turned and briskly sped back to Tiffin, U.S.A., for a steak-fry picnic. As the senior members were preparing for commencement June 1, sister Hesses serenaded them at the annual sing-out banquet with "Green and White," the society song.

Captained throughout the year by Marilyn Wharton and Katherine Howald, the Hesses also saluted the return of Beulah Bertsch, International Farm Youth Exchange representative to Germany, and the reign of Jean Fisher as Homecoming queen.

Looking forward to their centennial anniversary the mates of the good ship Eta Lambda Sigma are planning new voyages in the service of Heidelberg.

The Philalethean Society was led by presidents Anne Kingsmore and Mary Lou Humphreys. Anne's activities include president of Student Council while Mary Lou served as president of Inter-Dormitory Council.

Chosen as their sweetheart by the Phis at their open house, Miss Osterholm was honored for her service as adviser.

PHILALETHEAN

Just as the pages of the calendar featured in the 1952 Phi Phair flipped quickly over, the remainder of the year faded out of sight under the capable hands of Ruth Weirich, spring president.

But first, of course, came the Coronation Ball when Elizabeth Fultz, a brand-new Phi pledge, was honored as queen. As May flowers came into full bloom, Ruth Weirich added our contribution to the colorful bouquet during her reign as queen of 1952 May Day festivities. Soon, with the Phi Chaw dimmed into the past, we were climbing through a Spring Fantasy for our annual banquet at the Findlay Elk's Club, and on our way to the sing-out banquet where we reminisced on our "Stairway to the Stars" at the Shawhan Hotel. The perfect end to our year came as senior Phi, Elinor Palmer was crowned 1952 Aurora queen.

With the enthusiasm of fall and a new Phi year in sight, Anne Kingsmore, president, led the Phis on a gala year as we enjoyed cider, donuts, and plenty of square dancing at our annual barn dance in October.

Climaxing Heidelberg's successful football season, we were honored when Patricia Harvey became Homecoming Queen attendant. Then it was time for our Phi Doe.

In November, we danced through Central Park to fulfill our "Lullaby of Broadway" theme at the annual Phi Serenade.

With the skyline of New York in the background the Phis danced to the "Lullaby of Broadway" theme at their closed dance.

Row ONE: Ann Shade, Ann Falk, Elizabeth Fultz, Joan Slentz, Gwendolyn Bahler, Rebecca Seese, Eloise Kreischer.

Row Two: Bonnie Cherp, Ruth Kruse, Carol Metger, Patricia Harvey, Martha Lebold, Jane Tjoflat, Mary Lou Humphreys, Marlene McKillip.

Row THREE: Lois Neumann, Geraldine Worthman, Verna Kessler, Cheryl Edmonds, Shirley Brand, Virginia Nowack, Elinor Vossmeier, Daisy Turkl, Charlotte Siegle.

Later in November we galloped into the Inter-society Sing with our guns and cowgirl hats for a few western songs.

As winter progressed, the Sigs honored us by crowning a junior Phi, Virginia Nowack, Sig Sweetheart for 1953. For another evening of fun and excitement at the 1953 Phi Phair Carol Metger and Eloise Kreischer, our mother and daughter team, made a grand shopping spree through a big department store complete with such fascinating sights as the pet shop, toy shop, and the Phi-Lite Tea Room. The Phi Chaw, senior sing-out banquet, and our spring banquet featuring "Pink Champagne" closed another successful year of the Philaethean Literary Society under the leadership of Mary Lou Humphreys, spring president.

SIGMATAUN

The Sigmataun's choice as most representative of their society was Gene Ferguson, a pre-ministerial student from Rochester, New York.

"Second to None" is the motto inscribed on the Sig shield with the letters Sigma Tau Nu.

Taking second place in the judging of the Homecoming floats was the Sig rocket stressing the men's dormitory goal.

"Born midst struggle, and toil and strife,
Conceived of the finer things of life,
Out of the darkness and into the dawn—
That is the story of Sigmataun."

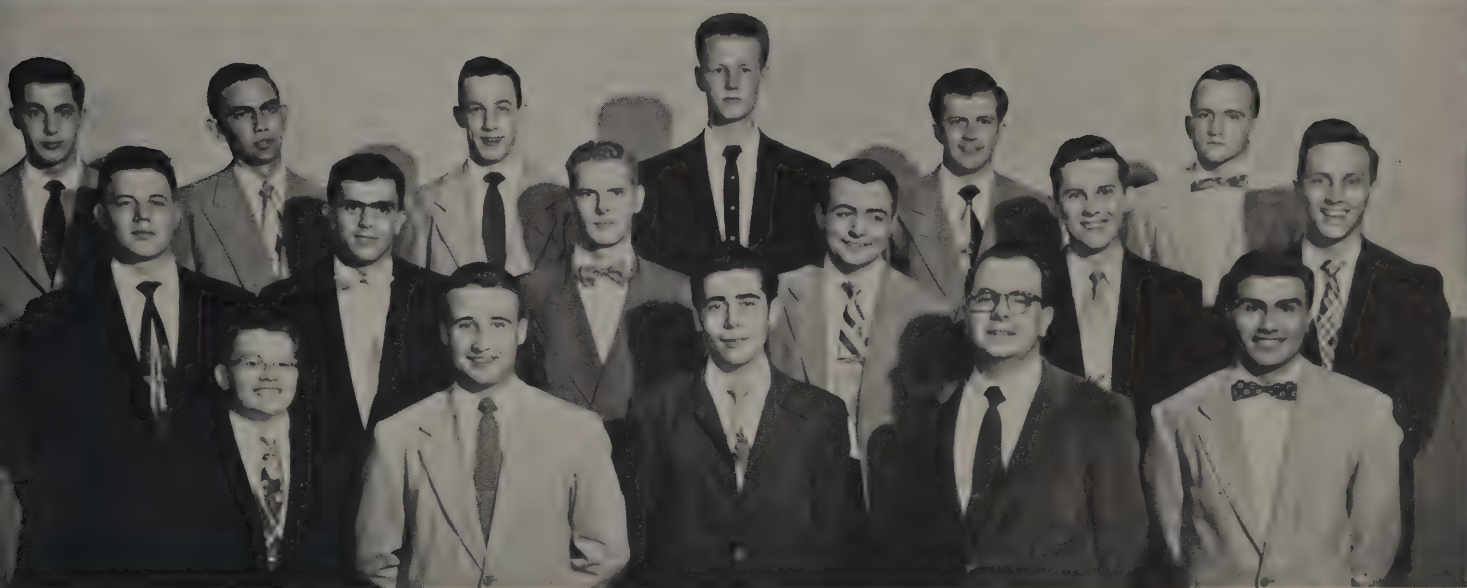

Opening the second semester of 1952 the Sigs celebrated their third annual birthday with a banquet on March 14. At the all-college dance, the Sweetheart Ball, Mary Seaman was honored as the Sig Sweetheart. In March, the society was enlarged by the addition of a pledge class of 21 freshmen men. The society's spring banquet was held at Indian Lake. This, the last affair of the year, was the last time the charter members were present. Through an outstanding year in intramural athletics, the Sigs captured top honors in that field.

First project for the fall of '52 was the Homecoming float which depicted Heidelberg rocketing toward a new goal, the King Memorial Dormitory. This float took second place in judging. The Inter-society Sing was the second activity in which the Sigs participated. The traditional December open house with the theme, "Memories of Christmas," featured a variety of talent and acts. The original script was written by men of the society.

The Sweetheart Ball began second semester's activities with Virginia Nowack as the 1953 Sweetheart. The 1953 pledge class included 18 men.

In February Professor Archie Thomas became co-adviser of the Sigmatauns with Professor Merle Burke.

The Sigs celebrated their fourth birthday in March. Through four years of growth, the Sigs have emphasized parts of their emblem, Scholarship, Leadership, Athletics, and Music.

VOICE OF THE STUDENTS

From a bevy of drives and dances, spirit-raising and migration, constitution and legislation, student government emerged as the outstanding issue on which the Student Council debated nearly every Tuesday night in the Commons Lounge. Spring, 1952, found members revising the Student Council constitution and drawing up standard class constitutions, and a set of cheer-leading by-laws.

The student body revealed interest in student government when the council conducted a poll for help with elections, Freshmen Week, and May Day. The project with the most far-reaching effect was the detailed study of "Legislation Pertaining to Students" in the student manual. Sponsored by the council, but handled through societies, this study uncovered questions and recommendations concerning school regulations and created a new awareness of student policy at Heidelberg.

A general spirit-raising campaign planned pep rallies during football season and sent Heidelberg roaring off to Akron U. to see the Princes capture the conference crown and make another Student Council thrilling migration. Besides sponsoring the annual May Day, Homecoming, and Christmas Dances, the council also backed welfare projects like the Red Cross, the March of Dimes, and two successful Red Cross Blood Drives.

As spring, 1953, rolls around, plans are in full swing for an Ohio Sesqui-centennial celebration on May Day and a student campaign for the proposed King Memorial Dormitory.

Presidents of council were Anne Kingsmore, second semester, and Alfred Williams, first semester.

DEVELOPING CAMPUS CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP

SCA

Through the Student Christian Association, students find opportunities to develop individual abilities and at the same time serve God and men. Affiliated with the national YM and YWCA, the Heidelberg SCA maintained a membership of 325 students and 25 faculty members during the year 1952-53, including students of all faiths represented on the campus.

Work is divided into four general phases and is carried on by the Campus Life, Community Service, Religious Life, and World Affairs commissions.

Projects include the co-sponsorship of freshman week, the World Student Service Fund drive, Fireside Chats, weekly vesper and meditation services, recreational and craft programs for children at the Tiffin YM-YWCA and Salvation Army, clothing and food drives, deputation teams to conduct worship and recreational programs in area churches, and campus social functions.

IN RECOGNITION OF EXCELLENCE

Who's Who

This year 11 outstanding seniors have been chosen to represent the school in the national publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Excelling in sincerity, in scholarship, leadership, participation in extracurricular and academic activities, citizenship and service to school, and promise of future usefulness to society, these people are HC's leaders.

Senior Laureate

Five senior women who have distinguished themselves in scholarship, leadership, and service form this honor organization. In an impressive May ceremony new members are received and become acquainted with the organization's objectives among which are promotion of scholarship, aid in the orientation of new women students, and service to the dean of women in coordinating women's activities.

Tower Men

This organization is composed of senior men who have taken a leading part in campus activities. The graduating members have the opportunity of electing new members.

Senior Laureate: Ruth Armbruster, Shirley Betaun, Dean Grace Leslie, Jane Herbster, Joanne Opp, Anne Kingsmore.

Tower Men: SEATED: Arthur Graham, Paul Eberts, Robert Douglas, Richard Siegfried, Bruce Kriete. STANDING: Richard Elliker, Dr. C. M. Prugh, William Mentges, Dean Henry Genz, Alfred Williams.

Phi Alpha Theta

The Delta Gamma chapter of the national honorary history fraternity gives students interested in history an opportunity for recognition. This year the group sent Don Bridinger to the national convention in Puerto Rico.

Kappa Pi

Guided by Mrs. Monroe Kildow, the national art fraternity has transformed the attic of the library into the typical artist's studio. An organization for both men and women with satisfactory records in art and other college work, it provides opportunities for those with a touch for the aesthetic.

Pi Kappa Delta

Heidelberg holds the distinction of having the Ohio Beta Chapter of this national forensic honor society. It is open to both men and women who distinguish themselves in the field of public speech. Two years' participation in intercollegiate debating or participation in the state oratorical contest represents the minimum requirement for election.

Kappa Pi: Eugene Sheeley, Judith Cork, Katherine Howald, Jean Foutz, Verna Kessler, Kenneth Jasnau.

Pi Kappa Delta: Leanne Omwake, Jane Herbster, Alfred Williams.

Hard work at Concert Choir rehearsals ensures successful performances.

"SING HEIDELBERG"

Campus music organizations encourage masterly achievement and genuine good fellowship among members and the college at large. Stress placed on music at Heidelberg results in many high quality programs.

College Chorus includes all who wish to sing for the joy of singing and those who contemplate joining Concert Choir. In December just before Christmas vacation, College Chorus combined with Concert Choir and augmented by singers from the community, presented Handel's "Messiah" under Professor Ohl's direction. This presentation by the two-hundred voice choir and professional soloists accompanied by the college orchestra was given in Seiberling Gymnasium for a large audience and for radio broadcast. Following the Easter Vacation the choir and chorus again combined to present Verdi's "Requiem."

Under direction of Prof. Ferris E. Ohl, Concert Choir of sixty-five mixed voices has given many outstanding performances. In the 1952-53 season the choir made its annual nine-day tour between semesters. At least one concert each day and sometimes as many as three concerts were given at various cities on this tour of eastern states. New York City, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and Pittsburgh were scenes of concerts this season. Occasionally the choir scheduled weekend appearances in Ohio and Indiana in addition to providing special numbers for chapel services and giving a home concert.

BACK: John Metz, Carol Gerhard, Daniel Schultz, Ella Peltz, Robert Reiff.

Directed by Prof. C. W. Assenheimer, the college orchestra played for special occasions this year, accompanied the "Messiah" presentation and provided music for graduation and May Day ceremonies. A special concert on the Commons lawn and a program for a regular college convocation were enjoyed by fellow students.

The Madrigals, a group of eight select voices from Concert Choir, sings in a less formal manner. With Professor Ohl as director, this group entertained for local clubs, church groups, and civic organizations of Tiffin and surrounding cities. These versatile musicians usually provide programs of lighter semi-classical music.

Triad Club this year sponsored a series of concerts by professional musicians. Members of Triad Club were chosen on the basis of musical ability and scholastic standing. Music students preparing to teach music in the public schools benefit from membership in the Ohio Music Educators' Association.

STUDENT PRINCE MARCHING BAND

Filling the air with strains of "Fight on, oh Heidelberg . . .," the Student Prince Marching Band provided pre-game and half-time shows at football games, paraded to and from the stadium, played at pep rallies, and led the triumphant procession honoring the Ohio Conference Champs to the steps of the Court House to acclaim the victory of the season.

On two out-of-town trips the band accompanied the football team to the Wittenberg Homecoming game in Springfield and to the Akron game as a part of the all-college migration.

Favorite themes of the year's band shows were "The Things We Did Last Summer" featuring baseball, fishing, sailing and being lazybones, and "A Trip Around the World" visiting South America, Hawaii, Chinatown, Paris, and back in the U.S.A.

At the annual band banquet certificates, letters, and pins for three, four, and five years of participation were awarded to the members.

VERSATILE IN SPEECH

Acting, directing, debating — these are the three most popular of Heidelberg's many speech activities. Speech opportunities abound in the field of stage, radio production, and debate. These activities give students the chance to use and develop their creative talents.

Wig and Masque members worked hard in the production of one-acts as well as two major plays this year. "On Borrowed Time" will be remembered not only for its realistic acting but for its lifelike setting—one of the most elaborate ever constructed on the chapel stage. The fall presentation of a courtroom play took place in the Seneca Courthouse. This location added interest and reality to "The Night of January 16th." The final three-act play of the year was "The Silver Whistle," another well-done outdoor setting combined with memorable characterizations to give Civic Form audiences a most entertaining evening.

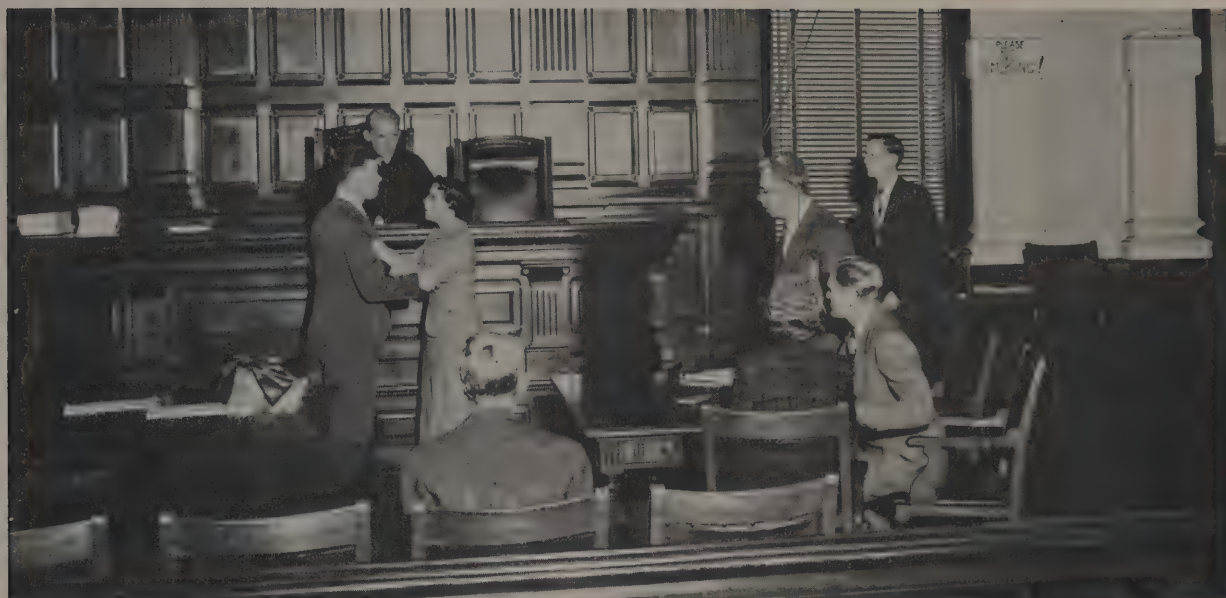

Four double bills of one-acts excited and amused spectators this year in the Little Theater. Directors of these plays belong to Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic honor society. Election to this society is bestowed on those who have distinguished themselves in dramatics. The one-acts had educational value both to performers and audiences.

Work on stage crews for these productions provided an outlet for creative ambitions.

Lunette Arnold becomes Karen Andre for her performance in "Night of January 16th."

A tense moment in "Night of January 16th" is created by the unexpected appearance of gangster Larry Regan.

Settings were designed and executed. Projects such as constructing a tree or building a platform were carried out. Lights, costumes, makeup, and properties comprise some of the other jobs that together with capable acting and directing added to a polished performance.

An annual activity in the past years has been a Cleveland trip to see professional theaters. This year Wig and Masque members witnessed two fine performances—"Othello" at the Cleveland Playhouse and "Carrousel" at the Karamu Theater. These trips provide an opportunity to see legitimate theaters and talk with professional actors and backstage workers.

Professor Archie M. Thomas, Jr., chairman of the Speech Department acts in many capacities other than teaching speech courses. Debate coach, Radio Workshop supervisor, technical director for the three-acts, and general adviser of speech are some of his duties. Sharing the speech office on second-floor Founders with him and Dr. C. M. Prugh is Heidelberg alumna Ruth Withrow Bacon, the newest member of the triumverate. A speech correctionist, Mrs. Bacon not only teaches, but has directed the two major plays of the year.

Other speech organizations are Debate and Radio Workshop. Radio Workshop broadcasted over Fostoria's station one-half hour each week this year. The programs alternated between the speech and music departments. Debaters were among the busiest people on campus. Trips over Ohio and surrounding states to many intercollegiate debates and tournaments took much of their time. The Ohio Beta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is the honorary forensic society on campus. Elective membership is the coveted prize of intercollegiate debaters.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Threefold purpose of the Heidelberg Home Economics Club, which is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, is to create further interest in home economics throughout the department, service to the school, and service to the community.

This year the club presented the latest styles in their annual Spring Style Show. Speakers brought to the campus included a representative of a large textile company who spoke on the newest fabrics and a local florist who demonstrated flower arrangements for various occasions. Club members made stuffed animals for the local children's center at the holiday season. Luncheons and refreshments for various campus activities were prepared by the Home Economics Club.

THE STUDENT PRINCE

College literary magazine, the "Student Prince," published once each semester, was completely altered in its aims and makeup this year. Purpose of the new "Student Prince" is to present the best of students' literary accomplishments in fiction, essay, poetry, and a composite picture of Heidelberg life.

New features this year were the "Pony Rail" which included humor, pertinent problems, and comments about current campus events, and the "Coed Corner" describing fashions and activities of Heidelberg women. Other additions to the new magazine were cartoons, photographs, sports stories, and contests in creative writing and in photography.

All students look forward to each edition of the "Student Prince" which is sponsored by the seven literary societies on campus.

THE KILIKILIK

Behind the scenes of the weekly publication of the "Kilikilik" over sixty active students work daily reporting news, writing features and columns, reading copy, and handling business. Co-editors Shirley Betraun and Charles Presar manage the paper's production, decide policy, and organize the varied staff. Business manager Jim Andrews conducts financial matters.

The cartooned walls, the constant clacking of the typewriters, and the hum of busy, friendly student journalists are as characteristic of the Kil office as baseball is of spring. A member of the Associated Collegiate Press and the Ohio College Newspaper Association, the "Kil" has consistently placed high in both contests.

One of the thirty yearly issues, however, violates all rules of college newspaper etiquette and April Fools its readers with imaginative stories and pictures. The remaining issues are published with the slogan "If it's news, Kil it," uppermost in the minds of the staff members.

Uncensored by any faculty member or college administrator, the "Kil" serves the students, alumni, college, and friends. Each spring at the banquet four weeks before the end of the year, a new staff accepts the challenge of serving Heidelberg through journalism.

THE AURORA

If yearbooks had slogans, "Innovations" might be chosen for the 1953 Aurora. Under a new organization plan, the 1953 Aurora becomes the first yearbook to be an all college publication. Although still edited and managed by members of the junior class, the staff is now open to all classes.

Also beginning with this year, all present and future profits, if any, will revert to an Aurora fund. The Publications Committee hopes that in this manner new equipment can be purchased and a reserve fund can be established.

New also this year is the Aurora office. Through the efforts of the advisers and the staff, the 1953 Aurora in December moved into its own office and allowed the Kil to expand and publish in peace. Now located in the old history office in the basement of the "U" building, the Aurora staff can hold convenient conferences with the photographic department across the hall.

With the production of the 1954 Aurora already under way, the staff of the 1953 Aurora wishes to thank those people who helped in the publication of the book. Special thanks go to Miss Kathryn Kalbfleisch and Mr. Merle M. Burke for their help and advice.

To the section editors for their endless scheduling of pictures, to the staff for their hours spent on copy, to the photographers for their unending effort and to the advertising staff for the many miles tramped, we say thank you. Without your help we could not have published this book.

ATHLETICS, since Grecian times, have always played an important role in institutions of higher learning including the Heidelberg in Germany and in Ohio. Years ago, when Heidelberg students practiced the art of fencing, a good fencing match stirred as much excitement and enthusiasm among student spectators as does the modern football squad in action against a rival. Although present-day Heidelbergers cannot boast of successful wild boar hunts like those of early Bergers, the moderns can boast of a successful greased-pig chase. Field events—running, jumping, discus throwing, and pole vaulting—have remained an important part of the Heidelberg sports programs. Although new sports such as baseball, basketball, and golf have become popular among students, the essential purpose of all athletic activities has remained the same throughout the years. Students develop strong and healthy bodies and learn the value of teamwork and cooperative effort through participating in the sports of Heidelberg.

1952 CHAMPIONS

For the first time since 1948, the Heidelberg gridders, under the able direction of head coach Paul Hoerneman and assistant coach Ray Baker, were crowned undisputed champions of the Ohio Conference. The Princes posted an impressive 8-1 record in their nine outings of the season. Their record stood at 5-1 as three of the Tricolor victories were with non-conference teams.

Seventeen returning seniors gave Coach Hoerneman and his staff a big nucleus with which to build his team for the 1952 campaign. Outstanding among these were starters Art Graham, Bill Paul, Norm Jackson, Dick Buynak, Lou Tasse, Paul Yackey, Bob Winterburn, Ken Darmour, Dick DeWalt, Jim Maderitz, Pat D'Agostino, and Howard Washka.

Manager Paul Westcoat (extreme right) gives instructions to John Busch, trainer, Cal Tewart and Ken Corey, assistant managers.

In overall statistics, the Princes rated second in both offense and defense. In their nine games, the Tricolor moved the ball 3,183 yards for an average of 353.7 yards per game. On the other hand, the Princes allowed the fewest points to be scored upon them, 61, which was less than seven points per game. The nine Heidelberg opponents could gain only 1,840 yards against the stiff Prince defense, for an average of 204.4 yards per tilt.

Spearheading the fine offensive unit were Jim Lambert, triple threat quarterback who is an excellent passer, kicker, and runner, Paul Yackey, two-time little All-American halfback, Bob Winterburn, the team's most valuable player, leading ground gainer and scorer, and Dave Beard who filled the full-back slot in place of injured Bob Warren.

Much of the credit for Heidelberg's fine offense must be given to the seven men who so ably ripped holes in the forward wall of their opponents, enabling the ball carriers to move so readily down the field. The defensive unit also deserves great praise for their outstanding performances throughout the season.

Matt Rock held the spotlight as a grid hero throughout most of the season as he established a new Heidelberg conversion record. Rock was successful in 30 of his 33 attempts during the year including 25 consecutive conversions without a miss. His first miss came in the initial game of the season after he had made one earlier conversion. He then went on to his 25 straight before narrowly missing a PAT at Morris-Harvey, six weeks later. A leg injury in the Morris-Harvey game accounted for his last bad kick, as he could not move fast enough to get the kick away before it had been blocked.

The only loss handed the Princes this year was by a powerful Muskingum eleven. By continuing their long jinx on Heidelberg, the Muskies put a damper on any hopes that the Princes had towards winning the coveted conference crown. The Tricolor aggregation, however, recovered from their 28-21 defeat and whipped the remaining teams on their schedule.

At the annual honors banquet, the Ohio Conference Champions were all given an engraved gold football as a gift of the Elks, Downtown Coaches, Kiwanis Club, and the "H" Association. In addition, thirty-four members of the squad received awards. This large number of letter winners shows that it took the whole team and not just a few individuals to make them the champions that they are.

FRESHMAN GRIDDERS

Coach Joe Malmisur led his freshman yearlings through a three-game schedule as the young Princes posted a 2-1 record for their efforts. A home and home series was played with Bowling Green's Falcons, while the annual frosh-soph game officially closed the Heidelberg gridiron season.

The only loss suffered by the yearlings was at the hands of Bowling Green, who invaded Armstrong field and humbled the frosh, 19-14. The Heidelberg freshmen then turned the tables on the Falcons as they traveled to Bowling Green to outplay them to the tune of a 27-20 victory.

After the first few minutes of the contest the yearlings were never in trouble as they gained an early 6-0 lead and never let up until they held a 27-6 margin. With this 21 point lead the frosh defense slackened, allowing the Falcons to garner two fourth quarter tallies.

The frosh then went on to become the first freshman crew to defeat their bitter rivals, the sophs, since 1947. Adding insult to injury, the yearlings held the sophomores scoreless in a tilt that saw a final score read, 12-0.

CO-CAPTAINS

Paul Yackey—We all knew him as “Spark,” but to the Berg’s opponents he was known as the shiftiest, most elusive halfback in the Ohio Conference. With almost every known gridiron honor bestowed upon him during the past three years, his teammates topped them off by electing him co-captain of this year’s Ohio Conference Champs.

Bill Paul— (not pictured) — Small but mighty would be an apt way of characterizing co-captain Billy Paul. Known for his aggressive, consistent blocking, Bill proved to be one of the finest linemen ever to wear a Heidelberg uniform. Shaking a halfback loose by throwing a key block was Bill’s specialty.

TOP PLAYERS

Bob Winterburn, senior halfback from North Jackson, Ohio, received the honor of being named the most valuable player of the 1952 Ohio Conference champions.

Winterburn had a heavy burden to carry during the season as he had to replace the injury-ridden Paul Yackey as the main ball carrier. He capably filled this important position and ended the season as Heidelberg’s leading scorer and ground gainer. He also filled in as defensive halfback, making the Associated Press Ohio Conference team in that position.

BASKETBALL 1952-1953

Heidelberg's 1952-53 squad made the best record posted by a Heidelberg quintet since 1949-50. With only one junior and one senior on his first team Coach Paul Hoerneman did a commendable job as he brought his cagers into the winning column eleven times against seven setbacks.

Paul Yackey led the Princes to their eleven victories as he spearheaded the offensive attack with a total of 209 points. Breathing closely down his neck was Jim Lambert, set shot artist, who poured 208 tallies through the nets from his traditional guard position.

The Prince aggregation played inconsistent ball for the first half of the season and had a poor 5-6 going into the last portion of the season. With the able aid of Jack Meola, top-flight guard, the Princes took five straight decisions before falling to the conference champion Akron Zippers. This five game streak included two road victories which previously had been at a premium for the Tricolor quintet. Another road victory came in the final game as the Hilltoppers took their second decision of the season from a power-packed Capital five.

Probably the best single performance of the season came from Jack Meola who meshed 29 counters for the Princes in a tilt played at Otterbein. Defensively Meola showed great promise in his first year with the squad.

In their eighteen contests, the Tricolor averaged a total of 69 points, while allowing their opposition 71.39. This defensive average was one of the best in the conference. The Princes finished the season in a sixth place deadlock with the Capital aggregation in the fourteen team circuit.

The thrills were many in the campaign, including such games as those with Capital which Heidelberg won 76-66 and 83-73. The Lutherans have been a traditional powerhouse in the league and were heavily favored to beat our talented young cagers. A twenty-point upset over highly touted Ohio Wesleyan gave the Tricolor fans a thrill which they hardly expected. A 74-71 victory over Otterbein, a two-point margin over Muskingum, and the 90 points tallied against Oberlin were all memorable games in the 1952-53 record book.

The Prince quintet was undoubtedly the most inexperienced squad in the Ohio Conference as it was dominated with freshman talent. Besides Meola, Harry Groman, Bruce Miller, and Les Fuller all gave Coach Hoerneman some of the help needed to finish rebuilding a conference power.

BASEBALL 1952

Led by Jim Lambert, ace hurler, and Jack Tompkins, hard-hitting shortstop, the Heidelberg diamondmen, under the able direction of Coach Ray Baker, garnered five wins in eight starts. Lambert received credit for all five Prince victories, dropping one decision on the mound. Tompkins swatted the ball at a hot .487 clip to lead the offensive attack.

Two of the three losses handed the Tricolor nine were by a meager one-run margin. Akron held no mercy for the Heidelberg nine as they blasted the Princes' pitching staff for 22 runs. Many tallies resulted from errors.

Bolstered by six returning lettermen including Alex Czeranko, Lou Tasse, Jack Tompkins, Dave Planitz, Bob Winterburn, and Paul Witner, Coach Baker produced a well-rounded ball team, which ended the season with an overall batting average of .264 and fielding percentage of .906.

Lou Tasse filled in many of the catching assignments due to a leg injury to Czeranko.

The only two seniors on the squad, Dave Planitz and Paul Witner were chosen by their teammates as co-captains for the season. Both two-year lettermen did a fine job of patrolling the outer garden for the Princes.

Allowing 31 errors throughout the season, the Tricolor nine showed some defensive weaknesses. Many of the errors were due to the poor surface of the home field.

Sparkling on the defensive unit were Ed Limbach and Jack Tompkins who both made many unbelievable plays through the year.

HEIDELBERG'S 1952 CINDERMEN

Heidelberg's track team under Coach Joe Malmisur tallied more points in the 1952 season than the Heidelberg thinclads mustered in the two preceding seasons. Malmisur's crew dropped four meets and placed second in two triangular encounters.

Lack of experienced men was the main problem. Four lettermen reported for practice and formed the nucleus of scoring power. These four, Andy Babinsky, Ray Auker, Hale Schroer, and Hardy Wolf were aided by John Votaw and Norm Grimes who added greatly to the Prince attack.

Hardy Wolf spearheaded the attack and won the high point honors as he netted 53 points for the thinclads. Included in this scoring spree were many first place decisions in the low hurdles, high hurdles and the high jump events.

Leading the individual events for the Tricolor runners were Hale Schroer, 440-yard dash; Hardy Wolf, hurdles; Norm Grimes, distance runner; Ken Darmour, shot-put;

Chuck Carroll, discus; Jack Koch, high jump; Gordon Stauffer, dashes; and John Votaw, pole vault.

In his freshman season as track coach, Malmisur did a superb job of bringing the cindermen to a higher standard. He created a spirit which is sure to continue as long as he is at the helm. He has instilled in the hearts of his team members the genuine desire to win. His hard driving coaching has proved valuable to the athletic staff.

GOLF

Under the direction of Coach T. R. Turney, the Prince golfers took to the links eleven times and garnered three victories the 1952 spring season. Three veteran links-men, Don Beckett, Del Dressel, and Bill Snyder combined to form the nucleus of the squad, while Dick Bellamy ably filled the number four position.

Don Beckett led the Prince crew in the scoring department as he tallied 18 points. Dressel, the only senior on the squad, scored 14, while Snyder accounted for 11. Bellamy and Walt Bull combined to tally 5½.

The Princes opened their season by absorbing an 8-4 defeat at the hands of Ohio Wesleyan. Wittenberg and Oberlin then handed successive defeats, 8-4 and 10½-1½. The Princes took their next two matches from Ashland and Ohio Northern, 10½-1½ and 6½-5½. The victory string was broken as Wesleyan defeated the divot-diggers, 9½-2½, after which Heidelberg dropped a match to Ohio Northern, 7½-4½.

Wooster and Wittenberg took wins over the locals, 11½-½ and 9-3, before the Princes captured a 10-2 victory over Ashland. In the final match of the season, the Tricolor golfers lost to Akron, 10½-1½.

INTRAMURALS

The Sigmataun Literary Society reigned supreme over the 1951-52 intramural league. After taking first place in both football and volleyball, the Sigs coupled with the Exes for a tie for first spot in basketball. For the first time in seven years, the Excelsiors failed to win the coveted Hoke-Miller intramural trophy.

Unable to overtake the powerful Sig teams, the Exes garnered second slot in the overall standings, eighty-five points behind the champs. Edging out the Aptonaltons by a mere twenty-five counters, the Heidelberg teams gained third place in the four-team circuit.

Intent on winning back the championship, the Exes completed the first half of the 1952-53 season undefeated in both football and basketball leagues. The Heids were a close second, losing by only three counters.

WRA

Under the able leadership of Miss Evelyn Levers, instructor in the health and physical education department, the Women's Recreation Association had a full year. Play Day, a new activity for the group originated this year. On this day, women from various colleges of the surrounding area came to Heidelberg to participate in women's intercollegiate sports.

The intramural program of WRA includes basketball, bowling, ping-pong tournaments, badminton, and tennis. The women's dormitories form teams for basketball tourneys, while individual women participate in the other events.

WRA also has a varsity basketball team which plays other college women's teams throughout the state. This season the Heidelberg sextet lost only one game and posted many wins.

Miss Evelyn Levers, adviser, discusses plans for Play Day with Anne Kingsmore, Lois Neumann, and Barbara Bodenbender.

THROUGHOUT the centuries memories of college days for Heidelbergers have been highlighted by the feature events of the college year. Every student has been subjected to the ego-deflating but friendly fun of Freshman Week and will always remember the first few impressive days of college life. Homecoming has ever been a time of happy reunion filled with glad greetings and fond recollections during the day's festivities. Heidelbergers will always remember those special holiday and society dances where young hearts and feet kept time with the melodious strains of a dance band. Kings, queens, and members of the court have reigned at dances and festivities since the first May Day at Heidelberg. Hilarious pledging activities and hectic cramming for exams have been inescapable features of college life. Finally, foremost in all Heidelbergers' college memories are the mortarboards, gowns, colorful hoods, academic processions, honors, and diplomas—all symbols of graduation.

HOME COMING 1952

Homecoming of 1952 was introduced Friday evening with a tremendous bonfire and cheer rally to arouse enthusiasm for the eventful day to follow.

On Homecoming morning the men's society floats and the women's dormitory decorations were judged. The Heidelberg Literary Society took first place with their float theme "Heidelberg Alumni the World Over." France Hall received the cup for women's dormitory decorations with their theme of "Student Prince Record Shop."

Members of the Student Prince Marching band and students gathered at College Hall to lead the annual parade through town to the stadium. Arriving at the stadium, all joined a great crowd of Heidelberg boosters to cheer the Princes to victory. Preceding the game, Queen Jean Fisher and her attendants Patricia Harvey and Margaret Lehmann were introduced to the Homecoming football fans. The Princes performed with their usual skill and trounced Capital, 48-6.

Carrying out a tradition a great number of alumni met after the game in the Aluminum Gymnasium for a reception. While punch and cookies were being served, many of the alumni recalled the Homecoming days of previous years.

To conclude the day an informal dance, "Autumn Serenade," was held in the Seiberling Gymnasium, where a capacity crowd danced to the music of the Skyliners. So ended another successful Homecoming in the history of Heidelberg.

MAY DAY 1952

May Day, 1952, although minus its usual lawn setting, still portrayed all the royalty this event annually holds.

Page Marilyn Harrell led the procession of senior women into Seiberling Gymnasium. Queen Ruth Weirich, Attendant Arline Wulf, and the senior women enjoyed the traditional entertainment in their honor. The colorful

May Pole Dance by the freshman women and a pantomime of "Pyramus and Thisbe," a part of Shakespeare's play, "Midsummer Night's Dream," were features of the program.

Thus the 1952 graduates completed one more of their memories before the conclusion of their Heidelberg days.

CORONATION BALL

1952

The 1952 Coronation Ball sponsored by the sophomore class for the freshmen was the first formal dance to be held in the new Seiberling Gymnasium.

Members of the sophomore class presented enjoyable entertainment for the royal court and other guests at the ball.

The murals, pumpkin coach, glass slipper, and the dance ending at midnight added to the reality of the Cinderella theme.
